

Geoff,

We've really been through a lot together and have come out closer to one another than ever.
No matter how far apart we are physically, you'll always be near to me in my mind.
There's a lot I could say but it's very hard to write down.
Your mind is a ~~very~~ important part of you, expand it but don't blow it up. I'll remember you always.

Steve

DEDICATION

Seldom does one find a man who is willing to give of himself to help others. We, the class of 1971, have the honor of knowing such a man. His Australian accent, and his warm smile automatically lead one to like him. His advice comes freely. When a friend is needed, he is there, his enthusiasm is unlimited. His faith in us when things are down, make life a little easier to bear.

The class of 1971 respectfully dedicates their yearbook to Mr. Robert Devine — teacher, advisor and friend.

"Now,
here,
you see,
it takes all the running you
can do,
to keep in the same place.
If you want to get somewhere
else,
you
must run at least twice as fast as that!"

In 1969 Mrs. Florence Greene was appointed to the position of interim headmistress of Watkinson School. When she arrived here that spring, her office on the second floor became a meeting place for students and teachers interested in changing the school. The most striking thing about these meetings was the interest Mrs. Greene displayed. No matter what one suggested she always made note of it in the little pad constantly at her side. Nothing was too far-fetched or impossible to be considered.

Now, two years after her arrival, Mrs. Greene is leaving the post of headmistress, but she is leaving a legacy that may not be fully appreciated by all. In two years, she has changed this school more than it had been in the previous ten years. To quote a cliché, Mrs. Greene has brought Watkinson into the 1970's. Probably the most significant change that has occurred under Mrs. Greene's directorship is the increased emphasis placed on scholastics. This change has increased Watkinson's standing in the community dramatically, although a few old timers still consider this a farm school. Several minor changes which ease the routine of the school include; a shortened day, an eased dress code, and shorter and more civilized form of disciplinary action. Basically, however Mrs. Greene has added a dimension of trust that has never been seen at Watkinson before. Fortunately for the school Mrs. Greene will not be leaving, but will remain "as Director of Studies".

All of the students join the class of 1971 in wishing Mrs. Greene the best of luck in the future.

"We have reached an age, those of us to whom fortune has assigned a post in life's struggle, when, beaten and smashed and biffed by the lashings of the dragon's tail, we begin to appreciate that the old man was not such a damned fool after all. We saw our parents wrestling with that same dragon, and we thought, though we never spoke the thought aloud, 'Why don't he hit him on the head?' Alas, comrades, we know now. We have hit the dragon on the head and we have seen the dragon smile."

VARSITY SOCCER

The opening games of the Varsity Soccer team brought to mind the prediction often heard that this year's team would be lucky to win even one game. After the initial losses; however, the team pulled together and ended the season with six losses and eleven wins. This gives Coach Lloyd McDonald a personal record of 91 - 30 - 14 ten seasons of coaching at Watkinson.

Most of the players had little or no Varsity experience and they won many times on teamwork and desire. The offense scored 57 goals, breaking the old record of 50 set in 1968. Several members do deserve to be mentioned, though. Doug Rose (20 goals) and Bruce Edwards (16 goals) led the scoring. The defense was built around center fullback Scott Walker, Captain Gil Rose, and goalie Ed. Keenan. The team allowed only 18 goals as the opposition was stopped time after time. Lynn Cameron contributed a great deal at the halfback position.

After losing the first three games Watkinson buried Robinson for it's first victory and gained momentum as they went along. The climax of the season was a 2 - 0 victory over Hopkins, supposedly a much better club. The team proved successful again thanks to the coaching efforts of Mac and his assistant, Skip Jarocki. Their confidence and patience paid off and the team wound up with a fine season.
